

The Ivy House

A HOME FOR MUSIC & MOVIES

Designed for listening

If you are serious about home entertainment, then your challenge is a difficult one. First, you need a system that offers the highest quality of sound and vision. Then you also need facilities like multi-room capability, in-wall loudspeakers and straightforward wiring.

In addition, your system has to complement your style and life in the real world.

A Meridian system offers you all this and more. Meridian DSP loudspeakers are unique in the industry. They sound exceptional, yet they need only power and a thin digital cable. Meridian components – from the new G series range – are internationally acclaimed, not only for their vibrant images and unparalleled sound quality in stereo or surround, but also for their looks and their design.

Meridian. Designed to be lived with – and listened to.
